CHARLES BABBAGE BIRTH ANNIVERSARY

26/12/2022

COORDINATOR : B. SOWJANYA

Department of Computer Science organized Birth Anniversary of Charles Babbage (26 December 1791 – 18 October 1871) was an English A mathematician, philosopher, inventor and mechanical engineer, Babbage originated the concept of a digital programmable computer.

Babbage is considered by some to be "father of the computer". Babbage is credited with inventing the first mechanical computer, the Difference Engine, that eventually led to more complex electronic designs, though all the essential ideas of modern computers are to be found in Babbage's Analytical Engine, programmed using a principle openly borrowed from the Jacquard loom Babbage had a broad range of interests in addition to his work on computers covered in his book Economy of Manufactures and Machinery. His varied work in other fields has led him to be described as "pre-eminent" among the many polymaths of his century.

Babbage, who died before the complete successful engineering of many of his designs, including his Difference Engine and Analytical Engine, remained a prominent figure in the ideating of computing. Parts of Babbage's incomplete mechanisms are on display in the Science Museum in London. In 1991, a functioning difference engine was constructed from Babbage's original plans. Built to tolerances achievable in the 19th century, the success of the finished engine indicated that Babbage's machine would have worked.

Principal Dr. K. Jyothi, IQAC Coordinator Dr. T. Hanumantha Rao, Head of Computer Science Department Smt Soujanya Bhukya and M.Veera Kalyani Lecturer in Computer Applications were present in this celebrations.
